

ID SCULPTURE

PLAY. CLIMB. EXPLORE.

The
impulse
to play,
climb and explore does not end at childhood.

On the cover: Harvest Park | San Diego, CA

Meadows Park | Lyons, CO

In our world, playgrounds are challenging, inspiring spaces for kids and adults to enjoy together.

ID Sculpture's team of designers and fabricators infuse adventure and authenticity into everything we make, from nature-inspired playgrounds to whimsical sculptures and public art. Combining old world sculptural techniques with modern digital technology allows us to design for virtually any form or theme. Our unique process creates sculptures that are durable and architecturally accurate with an unparalleled level of detail and customization.

performance boulders

First Creek | Tacoma, WA

Communities grow around shared challenge.
An ID Sculpture Bouldering Garden is a place for people to gather, exercise and develop their skills.

Public spaces should be unexpected, engaging, and safe. We specialize in interactive environments that bring people and communities together.

New ideas require experience to be successful. Over the years we've been fortunate to collaborate with communities, artists, and designers to realize one-of-kind playground, park and public art projects.
